OC YOU WANT TO EORROW $100 TO $500?

THE COMMERCIAL I OAN AND TRIST COMPANY, Incorporated, authorized capital $500,000, have introduced a system of making loans to responsible parties at a weekly payment within the reach of all. Building associations have gladdened many thousand firesides by supplying the means to purchase their homes. Many features of the building associations are embraced under our system. In securing a loan of $100 to $500 the borrower is simply required to pay $2 to $10 per week. The system will be explained to you, and its advantages will be readily appreciated, by calling at Rooms 20 and 21, Atlantic

UNDERTAKERS. AUGUSTUS BURGDORF, FURNISHING UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER, 1334 NEW YORK AVE. N.W.

At his own request the sheriff allowed Doc Taylor, the outlaw hanged at Wise C. H., Va., yesterday, to address the multitude in the forenoon. He appeared at a window in the court house at 10:15 a.m. and stood for a moment looking over the vast throng, who stood in the pouring rain to most of their attention to local teams and get one glimpse of such a famous and ec-

He was dressed in a white suit made of a damask linen table cloth. He wore a standing collar and a pure white tie. His foot wear consisted of black slippers and white cotton socks.

After he had viewed the crown he reached for his "Book of Worship" and read a selection and asked the thirty persons who stood around him to sing "How Firm a Foundation," which was followed by prayer, led by the prisoner, who took off his slippers and knelt on his wife's faded black staw!

Another song was sung and he read for his text the verse in Revelations beginning "Behold I stand at the door and knock."

He then consumed an hour and a half in reading and talking, but seldom touched the text. He was not agitated and made no confession and said nothing of his crime. He closed his speech at a few minand rested until 2, when he was taken to the gallows.

Thirty persons witnessed the execution.

He spoke but a few words before the black cap was adjusted. According to his request his remains will not be buried for three days, when, he declared, he would rise again.

The Union Pacific Receivership.

S. H. H. Clark, Oliver W. Mink and E. Ellery Anderson, the receivers of the Union Pacific railway, are in New York, and will hold daily meetings for a week or ten days. The subject under consideration at present is the arrangement for such interest payments as is desirable to make when they fall due. The interest will be paid on the Denver extension bonds and the Kansas Pacific consols. While extensive economies The most serious matter confronting the receivers is the paralysis of trade on the system which began in May and became intensely severe in September. They pro-pose to find out if there is any other cause besides the general depression and the shutting down of silver industries. The receivers will establish headquarters in New

Henry Labouchere has written a letter to the London Daily Chronicle quoting from a South African newspaper favora ble to the Chartered Company several that Dr. Jameson purposely provoked the trouble with the Matabeles. He also notes that Capt. Lendy, who gave the orders to fire on the Matabeles at the September meeting, was stigmatized in the house of commons on account of previous murderous assaults on Mashona villages as a mur-derer and assassin. The member who thus named him was Sydney Buxton now secretary of the colonial office. Labouchere re marks:
"It tells its own tale that the South African Chartered Company continue to employ such a man." Lake Steamers Missing. The lake steamer City of Concord and her consort, the Dunford, are missing. They left Port Huron twenty-seven days ago to load cedar in Georgian bay and nothing has been heard of them since. The only members of the crew of the Concord now known are Frank Hebner, owner and captain of Chicago; L. E. Many Matters That Will Interest the

The First Matinee is Drawing Near-What the Various Organiza-

School has apparently been in session a short time, nevertheless "Matinee day" is close at hand, and this year the performance will take place on the 21st of November. Active preparations are now being made by the pupils to guard against being compelled to pass off their conditions on that day, and this being the first quarter of the year there will be comparatively few who will be obliged to do so.

Preparations are also being made for the Christmas entertainments which are annually given by the pupils of each of the schools about the middle of December, rehearsals at the business having been begun several days ago.

In addition to vocal culture and the regular physical exercises, the classes at the Central are now taking up the Swedish movement, and it is expected that this movement will be carried to the other Central. The third year classes are now studying Dr. Bernhardt's "Frend voll and Leidvoll."

This is a new work by the professor, and he has taken a great deal of pains to have it include everything in the third year German course. On Tuesday the pupils of the botany classes will make a short journey to the suburbs in search of specimens with which to continue the regular work. The teacher will be in charge, and each student pursu-ing botany, who is present on that day, will be obliged to take the trip. Excursions of this kind have previously been found to be of great help to the pupils, and it is expected that quite a number will be made throughout the year. This week finds Miss Mussey's painting class larger than last, and the popularity with which it is held among the pupils is shown by the large number that is await ing an opportunity to enter.

Te dramatic club, composed of graduates and present members of the Central, separate from the school club, is making rapid progress with Robertson's delightful comedy, "Ours," and as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made a production will be given at one of the local halls.

A meeting of the executive committee of the class of '93 will be called for next week to consider the resignation of Mr. Daniel B. Street as president of the class. Mr. Street handed in his resignation once before, and it was not accepted, but this time it will proably be recognized and Mr. B. C. Davis is spoken of as the principal candidate for the position. The class intends holding its second reunion during the Christmas holidays. It is rumored about the school that several scenes from Shakespeare's "As You Like It" will be dramatized for the Christmas entertainment. It is also whispered that Miss Glover, who is assistant principal this year, will have charge of the re-

When Frederick county was settled thrifty and industrious Germans from the Palatinate in the early half of the eighteenth century they devoted much of their attention to the raising of the cereals. Much of the excellent corn and wheat raisand by them was in demand for home con-sumption and it was necessary to have mills to grind it. The mills built at that time in Frederick county were the first time in Frederick county were the first in the state, and a remarkable fact about them is that a number of them are still standing and still in operation. One of the oldest of them all is the Franklin mill, near Mechanicstown, which was built in 1768 by Adam L. As a general thing this section of the country is remarkably free from crimes, but once in awhile some evil disposed persons attempt crimes, though not as serious and as mysterious as in other parts of the country. Yesterday there was an attempt at robbery in North Laurel. It seems that a Mr. William Hevy, living back from the pike, had occasion to use some money and on going to get it he found that about $90 was missing. Two suspicious colored men were seen going toward the woods near the house and a young son of Mr. Hevy followed them. He came upon them as they were quarreling over the division of the spoils, and when they saw the boy they threw stones at him, but he kept watch of them stone. After the darkies had gone the boy looked under the stone and found about $80,

He had written to the other members of the committee, but they had shown no desire to work. He had called upon Commissioner Ross and Chief Parris. The latter had recommended a chemical engine for the town in his annual estimates, but it had been disallowed. Commissioner Ross thought that the alarm system could be extended to Anacostia. The following were named as a committee to lay before the House District committee, the fire needs of the town: Carroll W. Smith, J. W. Tolson and J. W. Bartley.

Mr. Murphy reported that the committee on streets, roads and bridges had not met.

Wilson, a young English tenor, will make his Washington debut on this occasion, appearing in a group of choice selections. The other soloists are Mrs. Neille Wilson Shir-Chin, soprano, and Mr. John Porter Lawrence, pianist, both of Washington. The second concert, on Thursday, December 28, 1883, at Convention Hall, will be the fourth annual rendition by the society of Handel's sacred oratorio, "The Messiah," in conjunction with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. The soloists secured for this work are Mrs. Genevra Johnstone Bishop of Chicago, a soprano of superior artistic ability, who has been very warmly received in Boston, New York and elsewhere, and who has been especially admired in oratorio; Miss Gertrude Edmands of Boston, who has not been heard in Washington for several years, and Mr. Ericsson F.
